

AP Course and Testing Disclosure

Parents/Guardians -

Please read the information listed below and initial to acknowledge each statement.

- _____ When my student joins a class within their MyAP.collegeboard.org account, I understand that this gives them the option to order an AP exam for their AP class with the College Board.
- _____ Each exam costs $98, which must be paid to the school by OCTOBER 4, 2023.
- _____ Notifications will be sent regarding the final deadline. If your student is on fee waiver or free/reduced lunch, refer to the information in the box below.
- _____ If my student chooses to order an exam and cancels the exam after November 15, 2023, I will be responsible for a $40 late cancellation fee. I understand that dropping the AP class from my student's course schedule does not automatically cancel the AP exam order.
- _____ If my student orders an exam after November 15, 2023, I will be responsible for the exam fee, as well as a $40 late ordered exam fee per exam.
- _____ For students enrolled in AP classes held during second semester only, the last day to either order or cancel an exam without a financial penalty is March 15, 2024. I understand that I am responsible for the $40 late order fee or the $40 late cancellation fee if either is completed after this date.
- _____ If my student misses their exam on the date administered, the testing fee will be dismissed, but I will be charged $40 for an unused exam. If another later exam is available, I will be responsible for the testing fee and an additional $40 late exam fee.

While AP exams are typically not covered by fee waiver, the College Board offers reduced fees for students who qualify for fee waiver and/or free and reduced price meals. Utah State funding is also available to cover remaining costs for these students. If your student qualifies and you wish to use this funding, please read and initial to acknowledge the statements below.

- _____ I DO want to share my fee waiver and free and reduced price meals eligibility status with the school testing coordinator and College Board. This information will solely be used for AP exams. (You are not required to grant this permission and this will not change your student's eligibility status for either program.)
- _____ I understand that this funding will not cover any $40 fees charged for a late ordered exam, late cancellation, or unused exam and I will still be responsible for any such fees for my student.

By signing below, I acknowledge the timeline and costs associated with my students AP course and exam and agree to adhere to them. Timeline and fees are set by The College Board. <https://ap.collegeboard.org>
